

Georgia Hospital Health Services Selects PivotHealth
To Provide Physician Practice Management Services

(Nashville, Tenn., March 15, 2010)—PivotHealth, a premier provider of physician practice management and consulting services based in Nashville, Tenn., announced today that they have been selected by the Georgia Hospital Health Services (GHHS) to provide practice management services to Georgia Hospital Association's 170 member hospitals. These services include physician practice management, consulting services and PivotHealth's hospital-physician alignment services. In 2009, Tennessee Hospital Association also selected PivotHealth to provide similar services to hospitals.

"By working with the Georgia Hospital Health Services arm of the Georgia Hospital Association it is our goal to provide needed operational services to physicians in a cost effective, affordable manner that will improve the performance of physician practices," said John Phillips, President of PivotHealth. "GHA is a leader on the benefits they bring to their members and we are honored that they have selected PivotHealth to be their company of choice to offer these services."

"GHA members have been seeking assistance with their physician alignment strategies. After a thorough due diligence process, including a public Request for Qualifications, we believe that PivotHealth has the demonstrated ability to work with the wide range of hospitals that make up the GHA membership," said Glenn Pearson, FACHE, Executive Vice President of GHA. "We are excited to find an organization such as PivotHealth that can work through the hospital to their employed, affiliated and unaffiliated community doctors."

About Georgia Hospital Health Services, Inc.

Georgia Hospital Health Services, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Georgia Hospital Association. GHHS was founded in 1989 for the purpose of partnering with companies to provide products and services at a discounted rate and/or with added benefits to member institutions. GHHS will also create programs and services that will meet a need that is not currently available through an established vendor offering. GHHS evaluates all of its potential vendor partners through a due diligence process and will only partner with those companies and programs that are of a high quality, provide the exceptional benefit to members and fit within GHA's strategic plan.

About Georgia Hospital Association

The Georgia Hospital Association is a nonprofit trade association made up of member health systems, hospitals and individuals in administrative and decision-making positions within those institutions. Founded in 1929, GHA serves 170 hospitals in Georgia. Its purpose is to promote the health and welfare of the public through the development of better hospital care for all of Georgia's citizens. GHA members are committed to improving institutional health care services and, in turn, patient care. The association provides information and education on issues ranging from access to health care and clinical care updates, to effective hospital management and compliance with high-level accreditation standards. From its headquarters near Atlanta, GHA represents its members to Congress and the General Assembly and before federal and state regulatory agencies. GHA is an allied member of the American Hospital Association.
