PivotHealth Names Gregory A. Lutz Senior Vice President Operations

(Nashville, Tenn., Feb 9, 2011) – PivotHealth, a leading physician practice management and services company based in Nashville, Tenn., has named Gregory A. Lutz as Senior Vice President of Operations.

Lutz brings more than 30 years of experience in large medical group practices and ambulatory care delivery systems, including operations and fiscal management, marketing, strategic planning, business development, service line creation, labor relations, contract negotiations, and human resource management.

As Senior Vice President of Operations, Lutz will serve as Chief Administrative Officer of Preferred Health Partners, one of PivotHealth's management contract clients that serve multiple hospital affiliates in the Brooklyn, N.Y., area.

"We're very pleased to have Greg join PivotHealth's operational leadership team," said John Phillips, president of PivotHealth. "His expertise in managing successful physician group practices and implementing strategic clinical administration initiatives will be a critical asset to Preferred Health Partners."

Prior to joining PivotHealth, Lutz served as Vice President and Chief Clinic Officer for Hennepin Medical Center in Minneapolis, where he oversaw the ambulatory care division for a hospital-based physician group practice. Previously as an Ambulatory Care Services, Practice Administrator for Loyola University Medical Center in Maywood, Ill., Lutz managed a hospital-based physician specialty group practice. He also served as Director of Physician Outreach Services, Ambulatory Care, Laboratory & Radiology for USF Stanford Healthcare in Palo Alto, Calif., where he developed a standardized planning process for physician-outreach services and established a strategic planning forum for ambulatory care.

Lutz holds a master's degree in Health Administration from Clark University in Worcester, Mass., and a bachelor's degree in Economics, Business & Psychology from Michigan State University in East Lansing, Mich. Additionally, Lutz is affiliated with the American College of Medical Practice Executives, the Academic Practice Assembly, the American Public Health Association, the Association of University Programs in Health Administration, and the Medical Group Management Association.
