PivotHealth Names Sam Beeler Director of Operations, Practice Management

(Nashville, Tenn., May 3, 2011) – PivotHealth, a leading physician practice management and services company based in Nashville, Tenn., has named Sam Beeler as Director of Operations, Practice Management. In this role, he will serve as the Chief Operations Officer of Staten Island Physician Practice, P.C., of Staten Island, N.Y., a PivotHealth medical group management services client.

“We’re very pleased to have Sam join the PivotHealth team, as he has substantial management, administrative, and IT experience in the healthcare industry,” said John Phillips, president of PivotHealth. “Plus, he brings unique enterprise knowledge from his past roles with SIPP to strengthen his new charge, an important factor as SIPP has now grown to be the largest private physician group on Staten Island.”

Prior to joining PivotHealth, Beeler served in consecutive positions as Director of Facilities and then Director of Planning & Marketing with Staten Island Physician Practice (SIPP). While at SIPP, Beeler managed two large renovation projects, authored a facility policy that was adopted enterprise-wide by EmblemHealth, successfully launched an accredited Vascular Lab and an image-guided Pain Management program, and increased SIPP’s market positioning.

Beeler holds a bachelor’s degree in philosophy from Rutgers University in N.J. Additionally, he is a certified Perioperative Autologous Transfusionist and a registered Medical Assistant.
